JUNIORS: It's all Coming Together

"The juniors are a wonderful group of students progressing well to become effective professional nurses. They have also successfully navigated their personal lives into the academic life at the College, not an easy thing to do," says junior class advisor, Cheryl Mace, MSN, MALM, RN.

Mace believes junior year may be the most difficult, because all of the learned information comes together. "Juniors can look forward to a senior year of chronic and acute nursing classes, plus leadership transitions. Senior courses will continue to build and expand upon information gleaned from the first three years of study, while senior clinicals will be more intense," Mace adds.

Andrea Colabuno has enjoyed all of her clinical rotations. "I have especially appreciated all of my clinical instructors' help through this past year. I am surprised at how incredibly fast this year went by. The eight week terms make classes go by twice as fast."

It was a seventh grade field trip to The Ohio State University for Women in Science and Engineering Day that prompted Colabuno's interest in nursing, "I was able to see what a nurse does, and I knew that was I wanted to do. I wanted to help people when they were sick." Colabuno plans to specialize in mother-infant nursing and earn a master's in nursing education.

"The most surprising thing about junior year," says Joe Derr, "is the wide range of experience you get in the clinical setting. You go from working with pregnant women, to schizophrenics, to medical/surgical patients. It can be really exciting. You never know what to expect at your next day of clinical."

Derr studies nursing because he wants to do the most for people in their time of need. "Growing up with a brother diagnosed with cancer, I learned at an early age that showing care and empathy for someone through a difficult time can go a long way," says Derr, whose long-term goal is to work as a nurse practitioner in pediatric oncology.

Dieuhau Nguyen says that caring is her hobby and that is why nursing is her career choice. She created a unique formula to describe her MCCN experience: nutrition (instructor) + vitamin (friend) = healthy knowledge. "I think instructors are similar to restaurant owners, knowledgeable about different kinds of foods (knowledge: NURS305, 306, etc.), which I enjoy. When I sometimes can't digest foods (knowledge) that I eat (study), I go to the restaurant owner (instructor) to ask what I need to add to make my food tastier. I think that asking questions about what you don't understand is very important. To survive in school, I also can't live without vitamins (friends)," explains Nguyen.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank Margaret Stinner, Shirley Cooley, Vicky Warschauer, and Cheryl Mace, who always open their doors and listen to my stories," concludes Nguyen.

Junior and resident advisor (RA), Amelia Stacker, grew up on a farm in Utica Ohio, a small town 45 minutes northeast of Columbus where she gave lambs their shots and medications. "I love science and what better way to use that passion and intuition for what someone else needs than in a nursing career," says Stacker, who chose MCCN for its superior clinical program, intense preparation for a BSN within four years, and the close ties between students and faculty.

Stacker loves being an RA. "In the dorms, there is always someone to talk with socially or to ask about nursing homework. It's great since all I have to do is roll out of bed and walk across the street to get to classes."

Over the past year, Stacker worked toward getting a Duke University student nurse summer internship and just received the news that she is accepted into Duke's ten-week summer internship. "I will be a float shadowing a nurse throughout the hospital. I am excited about the opportunity!"

MCCN Holds FIRST Active Shooter Drill

"Thanks to everyone — faculty, staff, students, Columbus police, safety and security staff, and hospital staff who participated in this successful event. The drill was an opportunity to test policy, procedure, and reaction to an active shooter situation," said Robin Hutchinson Bell, Director of College Relations.

"The drill was a great success, and the students responded just as they were trained," said Wally Burris, Operations Manager, Safety and Security, Mount Carmel West Campus. "I am very thankful we had the complete cooperation of the Columbus Police Defensive Tactics Unit headed by Sgt. Brian Bruce. Physically training in this environment is the first step to creating the proper response to crisis. The drill acknowledged this is a real danger that must be prepared for."

CELEBRATION of Culture/Spring Festival

Announcing a Junior-Level Curriculum CHANGE

In the MCCN curriculum, the major thrust of medical surgical nursing content is presented at the junior level (Sophomore level is foundational; senior level builds upon the content.)

In keeping with this focus, there will be a change in the current delivery of Med Surg I and II (NURS 305 and 306) effective fall semester 2010. The content of NURS 305 and 306 will be combined to form the new Med Surg course, NURS 309. NURS 309 will be taught as a 16-week nursing course with more clinical days devoted to patient care experiences. This curriculum change is taking place to more effectively meet course objectives and to introduce the content logically, sequentially and consistently.

Course Description, NURS 309
Prerequisite: Junior status

This course provides students with evidence-based knowledge in the management of adults and families experiencing human responses to alterations in fluid and electrolyte imbalance, oxygenation, ventilation, tissue perfusion, digestive function, immunologic function, hormonal regulation, regulatory function, motor sensory function, cellular differentiation (proliferation) and skin function and integrity. The nursing process provides the framework for the practice of nursing with clients of diverse backgrounds and in varied settings.

Affiliated Course SCHEDULE

Spring quarter at Columbus State Community College and The Ohio State University started March 29. Any student taking a spring quarter class at one of these affiliated institutions is required to submit a copy of his/her course schedule to the MCCN Records and Registration Office (Marian Hall, Room 201). The deadline to submit the schedule to MCCN was Friday, April 2!

All students must submit their CSCC or OSU course schedules to MCCN every term they take classes. Students who neglect to submit the required documentation will find that their credit hours at CSCC or OSU will not count toward calculation of total credit hour load at MCCN. Delinquent students may find themselves at less than full-time hours for financial aid calculation.

Over 50% of the freshman class turned out for a meeting held recently to discuss ways to be successful in sophomore year. Organized by freshman class advisor, Kathy Walters, MS, RNC, CNNP, the meeting also discussed the role that ATI (Assessment Technologies Institute®) can play in their nursing courses, the College Campus Code of Civil Conduct (more information coming this fall), the NCLEX (National Council Licensure Exam – RN), etc.

Denice Taylor, MSN, CNP, CWOCN, current N204/N205 course coordinator, and Stephanie Rae Piquero, RN, MSN, CPNP, next year's course coordinator of N204/N205, spoke with the students and answered questions.

"I was very pleased with the turnout of students, and with the questions that they asked," said Walters. The meeting also included a salad bar, fresh fruit, and pasta salad lunch.

The Front Desk Ladies:
MCCN's Own STEEL MAGNOLIAS

Anita Smith

Frances Shearer

Lois Stevens

Sue Edwards

They love the students, and that's the reason why there are nearly 100 total years of service among the four of them. They are the unsung heroines of Mount Carmel nursing education, keeping an eye on everything and everyone, and making sure that things run smoothly.

There is literally no end to the tasks they perform, many of them behind the scenes: answering the phones; sorting mail for students, faculty, and staff; locking and unlocking doors; operating the lost and found; greeting and assessing visitors; providing the first line of security; taking deliveries; answering questions; and handling countless unique requests and situations. Once upon a time, when there were students in residence in the building, the job was even more challenging as they matched wits with students attempting to "bend" the rules.

With 34 years at the front desk, Lois Stevens has enjoyed the longest run, working full time for 24 years, and at age 70 still working part time. "I love the work! My favorite part is interacting with the students and the many phone callers. I'm a preacher's kid and I just love working with people."

Stevens answered an ad in the paper, beginning her job when Eleanor Wilson was Director of Mount Carmel School of Nursing. "My youngest daughter was in kindergarten when I started. I planned to stay about four years, and now here I still am. I consider working here a privilege," says Stevens.

"Working the front desk, we have to be on all the time and make sure the wrong people don't come through those doors." Stevens remembers when students lived in the building and her responsibilities included checking that the stoves and water were turned off, windows closed, lights out and doors locked.

Frances Shearer has worked the front desk since 1980 and now splits the daytime shift with Stevens, although she began her career on the evening shift. For approximately 15 years prior to 1980, Shearer worked as a nursing assistant at Mount Carmel West. Shearer loved that job, but was forced to leave it by a back problem.

"I love the students. They keep me young. They can be ornery, but that's alright. I enjoy them. Besides, you've got to be good to them; they might be your nurse someday," laughs Shearer. She misses the days when students lived in the building and has many amusing memories of their antics. "I could get to know the students better then. They were here all the time and would stop and talk."

Sue Edwards works the Wednesday day shift and has worked at the College for ten years after ten years of volunteering with Sharon Schimmoller and Carol Graham. Edwards still volunteers at Mount Carmel West, along with her husband, every Thursday.

"I enjoy coming in to work, especially to greet and talk with the students," says Edwards.

Anita Smith is currently the only full-time front desk lady and works the evening shift. Smith heard about the position from Lois Stevens. Smith and Stevens are mothers-in-law together. She has worked 20 years at Mount Carmel, with 13 at the desk. Prior to working the desk, Smith assisted former student life director, Sharon Schimmoller.

"The students are my favorite part of the job. They are so young, alive and full of energy," says Smith. "I love it here, where whenever anything happens to someone at the College, everyone stands together and helps each other. The College is a caring community, just like a family."

A TRUE Friend to MCCN

employee and College faculty member, who is a true advocate for the College,” says Director of Development Jan Burkey. “She has been a very generous donor for more than two decades. She has helped with the golf tournament for many years and this year she kicked-off the phone-a-thon with a generous pledge and made phone calls.”

Moses says, “I donate because I know what it means not to have money to support your dreams. It was a challenge for me to pay for my first education in a diploma program.” Moses began giving back by donating to the Eleanor Wilson Nursing Education Scholarship Fund, established in 1989 to honor the director of Mount Carmel School of Nursing who served from 1964 to 1990.

“I worked with Mrs. Wilson, and I saw that she believed so strongly in the students and the educational process for them,” says Moses. “I knew the scholarship fund was going to make a difference in the lives of many students.”

Moses believes that one of the strengths of MCCN is the diversity of students enrolled. “I believe in the values and mission of Mount Carmel College of Nursing. As I was given assistance in paying for my education, I want to pay back to help finance the nurses of the future.”

Bonnie Moses, RN, MS, has a long history with Mount Carmel nursing education. She taught at Mount Carmel School of Nursing for 14 years and loved it. Moses then worked 15 years at Mount Carmel East in Patient Care Administration as Coordinator of Clinical Education/staff nurse SICU, retiring in 2006.

“When Dr. Schiele asked me if I would teach clinical in the BSN program, I accepted immediately. The sophomore students are wonderful to work with in clinical. They are excited and eager to learn about patient care,” says Moses, who has been back at the College for three years. “It’s like coming home after being away for awhile.”

Moses not only contributes to nursing education as an instructor, but also with her donations. She and her husband recently made a sizeable contribution to the 2010 Phone-a-thon, which Moses also supported as a volunteer caller.

Rho Omicron LUNCHEON

By Toni Chops, MS, RN

Members of Rho Omicron Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International gathered in the College gym on March 29, 2010, for a final meeting and luncheon of the academic year. New officers were introduced and included Ann Waterman, PhD, RN, Secretary, and Kathy Walters, MS, RNC, NNP-BC, Governance Committee Member. Pam Miller, MS, RN; Mary Nibert, MBA, BSN, RN; Linda Farrell, MS, RN; and Toni Chops MS, RN, were recognized for their service to the board.

Komen Race for the Cure on May 16, 2010. Participation is open to all members and nonmembers of Rho Omicron.

Jane Dickson, BSN, RN, Director of Emergency Services at Mount Carmel West, shared her perspective and insight into leadership strategies for nurses working in the hospital setting. She identified several tips for success for new graduates when interviewing for a job, as well as areas to investigate prior to the interview process. Dickson shared her personal experiences related to nursing roles and professional development.

The luncheon concluded with the distribution of honor cords to students graduating in May 2010. The event was a great opportunity for students to assemble as a group for the last time prior to graduation.

Notes from Alyncia:

Award Letter Process Year 2010 – 2011

Now that you have received your award letter, applying for financial aid at MCCN is really easy! Just follow the steps below. When you have completed one step, go to the next and be assured that we are right along with you in the process.

- STEP 1: Entrance Counseling — We strongly advise that you complete the online entrance counseling. Entrance counseling will help you as a borrower understand your rights and responsibilities under the Federal Direct Lending Program.
- STEP 2: E - Master Promissory Note — To take out a Direct Loan for the first time, you must complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN). To complete the Master Promissory Note, you will need your Department of Education issued PIN number.

If it has been determined that you are a Dependent student per your FAFSA, then one of your parents can apply for a Direct PLUS Loan. If applying for a Direct Plus Loan, please follow the instructions in Step 3.

- STEP 3: Direct PLUS Loan — To take out a Direct Plus Loan, parents will need to complete an application and promissory note. Parents will be required to pass a credit check. (To determine the amount that you can borrow for the Plus loan, you will need to subtract the total amount of the student's financial aid award from the cost of attendance listed on the student's award letter).

If it has been determined that you are an Independent student per your FAFSA, and you assess that you will need additional financial aid to help pay for your tuition then follow the instructions in Step 4.

- STEP 4: Fast Choice Private/Alternative Loan — To determine the amount that you can borrow for a private loan, you will need to subtract the total amount of your financial aid award from your cost of attendance listed on your award letter. You can go to our website at mccn.edu, click on Tuition and Financial Aid, click on Links, select Fast Choice Private/Alternative Loan.

NURS 408 Clinical Preferences

Students have the opportunity to indicate preferences for clinical site (the type of unit) for NURS 408. A letter explaining the process and a form to print and complete will be posted on WebCT Resources near the middle of the term PRIOR to the term you will take NURS 408. Watch WebCT Resources DAILY for this posting.

After carefully reading the letter and completing the form, take the form to the Marian Hall front desk promptly. Request that it be date/time stamped and placed in Ann Waterman's faculty mailbox. Your clinical faculty will contact you regarding placement near the end of the term.

Although the preferred clinical days are M-T-W day shift, the student is expected to be flexible and work the preceptor's schedule for an average of 24 hours per week. Weekends and shifts other than day shift are to be expected.

VOLUNTEERS Needed

Columbus Regional Airport Authority 2010 LCK Exercise

Rickenbacker International will hold a Full Scale Emergency Simulation exercise on Friday, June 18, 2010, 9 a.m. – 3 p.m., to test and evaluate the emergency plans and response of the airport, tenants, and various other service organizations, including police and fire, Franklin County EMA, Red Cross Disaster Services and area hospitals, in the event of a large-scale, mass-casualty accident at one of our airports.

Although the scenario cannot be disclosed at this time, "actors" (approximately 150+ volunteer participants, 18 years and older) are needed, and 120 of these volunteers will portray injury victims, from the walking wounded to the critically wounded. Some will be moulaged (made-up), if their acting part requires it. Volunteer arrival time will be communicated at a later date.

Accident victims will be "treated" in the triage area at the scene or transported to a participating area hospital for treatment of more severe injuries. At the end of the exercise, buses will collect all transported volunteers from the hospitals and return them to the airport.

To participate or obtain additional information, please contact Carol Holland at 614-409-3607 or cholland@columbusairports.com. Please leave your name or organization (if applicable), telephone number, and/or e-mail address.
